KIDS' KORNER

Build — A — Cone Review Game

Supplies:

- * an 11x28 inch piece of white poster board
- * Clear ConTact® paper
- * variety of colored construction paper, including tan
- * A large envelope to hold ice cream scoops.
- * cone and ice cream scoop patterns

Preparation:

Trace cone onto tan/brown construction paper. It can also be copied onto paper using pattern and a copier. Cut out cone.

Holding poster board lengthwise, glue cone to lower center of poster board (as in diagram). Cover that side of board with ConTact® paper. Glue front of envelope to the back of the poster board.

Using ice cream scoop pattern, trace and cut a variety of coloured ice cream scoops from construction paper (at least 10, depending on how they will be used.). Cut 1" lengths of masking tape, 1 per scoop, and place one in middle of the back of each scoop. Place scoops in envelope at back of poster.

Procedure:

Review Game: Prepare a list of questions. As a question is answered correctly, the child can choose a scoop of ice cream placing on the cone. Be sure each child gets a chance to place a scoop on cone. The object is to build a LARGE cone! If using teams, make a second visual and as each team member correctly answers, have them build their team's cone. The team that wins gets small candy ice cream cones.

6 weeks Attendance/Verse Contest: Make individual 9" x12" posters with cones for each child. Add scoops as verses are said, weekly attendance, bringing a friend, etc. Real ice cream cones can be prizes: winners = double size cone; runners up = single size.

SONG SUGGESTION

"Live For Jesus"

Sing the following words to the tune of "Jesus Loves Me". This makes a great song for teaching witnessing and missions.

Read your Bible, witness, pray,
Live for Jesus every day.
He will help you on your way,
As you trust Him and obey.

Chorus:

Yes, live for Jesus, (3x)
Just trust Him and obey.

Teacher TIP

Preserve & Protect Visuals

When laminating visuals, either with Contac® paper or machine lamination, be sure to use non-permanent (water base) felt markers in designing visuals. Permanent markers will "bleed" through the Contac® paper (and some machine lamination) and create either a yellowish shadow around the design or bleed onto other visuals if stored together.

Iron Those Visuals: For brighter and smoother laminated visuals and to allow the Contac® paper to adhere more tightly, press the surface with a slightly warm iron, placing another paper between iron and visual. While visual is still warm, smooth out edges and surfaces with fingers or the smooth edge of a ruler. This will eliminate the "frosted" look and wrinkles.

Let's Make A Deal Review Game

Supplies:

- * 10-12 paper lunch bags
- * Felt-tip marker
- * Small prizes for each bag

Preparation:

Number the lunch bags in sequence (#1-10 or 12) with felt marker. Place a prize in each bag. Prepare a number of review questions.

Procedure:

Children can volunteer to answer a question. Say to child, "You may have what is in bag #3 if you can answer this question." If he answers correctly, he gets to keep the prize.

Prizes: include small treats of food, gift certificate from $1.00 store, Bible story books or puzzle books or small games, etc.

Variety:

Option 1: Give child a choice—what is in the #d bag or what you have in your pocket. They choose before answering the question. Have small treat in your pocket.

Option 2: Prepare small paper squares and write a number on each which corresponds to numbers on the bag. Place in a box or basket. After question is answered, child pulls a number and gets prize from that bag.

Steal The Bacon

Supplies:

- * Bean Bag or soft object

Preparation:

Divide children into 2 teams according to height—shortest to tallest. Instead of assigning a number to each child, use books of the Bible, Bible characters, or words/terms you have been studying such as sheep, vine, the way, the truth, etc. Beginning with shortest or smallest on each team, give everyone on team a different name. Give the exact name to the counterpart on opposite team. Line up one team along floor facing towards center shortest to tallest. Seat opposing team with shortest member at opposite end from shortest on other team. Be sure the small children place against each other as well as the tall ones.

Procedure:

Place bean bag in center of floor, evenly between both teams. Teams should be standing shoulder to shoulder facing opposing team across floor. Have them all sit and cross legs in front of them. Call one of the names being used, such as Genesis. The team members from both teams (1 from each) who have the name "Genesis", get up and run to grab the bean bag and then race back to their own seat on the floor without being tagged. They must be seated and legs crossed to count as safe. If a person is tagged, the other team gets the point. Play a "timed" game—15 minutes or to a certain score level.

Option: The winning person in each round must tell something they know about the name they have assigned to them.
